A glance at the magazine rack show us what we, as a culture, value most: good looks, good health, youth, power, money. Today's readings acknowledge the allure all these things have for us, but they urge us to seek the wisdom of God above everything else. Each of us is called to holiness: but not all of us are called in the same way. This is a day to become more aware of our own unique vocation.

But our finances are low.*

Join the Legion of Mary to Honor our Beloved Mother Mary, as we gather to pray the Rosary together as a family, Sunday October 25th, before Mass at 10:00 AM. The intentions for this Rosary will be to put an end to Abortion World Wide.

FOR THE RIDE HOME—

What does Jesus mean when he says, "For human beings it is impossible, but not for God"?

Why is wisdom more valuable than wealth?

In what ways has scripture been living and effective in your life?
